

Educational Leadership Master's & Certificate Program through James Madison University

The Master's Degree in Education with a concentration in Educational Leadership is designed to prepare candidates to assume leadership positions in both school and district offices. The organizing theme for the program is the school/district administrator's central role as the interpreter, facilitator, and initiator of educational change leading to effective schools for all children.

Creating today's leaders for tomorrow's schools

State Assessment Requirement

Both master's and certificate students must achieve a passing score on the School Leaders Licensure Assessment (SLLA) in order to receive the Department of Education's endorsement as a PK-12 school administrator.
