

DEVELOPING EDUCATIONAL LEADERS FOR AN EQUITABLE & ENGAGING LEARNING ENVIRONMENT

Working Conference for Aspiring and Current School Leaders
Hosted by Old Dominion University's Educational Leadership Program and the Educational Foundations and Leadership Department

June 22, 2017

8:00 am - 4:00 pm

JOIN

Join new and aspiring school leaders for the ODU Educational Leadership Program's fourth annual Working Conference. The Working Conference is designed as a unique professional development opportunity for new and aspiring school leaders. There is no cost to attend the Working Conference.

CONFERENCE DESCRIPTION

New and aspiring school leaders often have unique needs as they become acclimated to leadership positions. This conference will delve into specific areas germane to new and aspiring leaders including:

- Instructional Coaching and Engagement
- Teacher Leadership
- The Assistant Principal Role
- Details and Nuances of Administration: Difficult Conversations, Time Management, and Other Facets of Administration
- Assessment
- Team Building and Capacity Building
- Embedded Professional Learning

LOCATION

Old Dominion University
Webb Center
Norfolk, VA 23529

REGISTER TODAY

Registration is FREE

<http://tinyurl.com/ODUEDLEAD2017>

PROFESSIONAL LEARNING

Attendees will engage in breakout sessions and roundtable learning opportunities focused on topics related to the conference theme.

NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES

Participants will network with educators from across Virginia. Grow your professional network and learn about your colleagues and available resources for school leaders.

CONTACT

Karen Sanzo
Educational Leadership Program
Old Dominion University
757-683-6698
ksanzo@odu.edu

DEVELOPING EDUCATIONAL LEADERS FOR AN EQUITABLE & ENGAGING LEARNING ENVIRONMENT

Working Conference for Aspiring and Current School Leaders
Optional Post-Conference Sessions

June 23, 2017

8:30 am - 12:00 pm

ODU's Working Conference offers three post-conference options designed to allow participants to explore in-depth one of the topics below.

Edcamp-ing: Adventures in Participant-led Professional Development

Session Description: An equitable and engaging learning environment isn't just for the students. Educators yearn for and deserve professional learning experiences that empower them to determine relevance, make meaningful connections to practice, and share expertise with colleagues. The Edcamp format is an innovative approach to an important element of the profession, and one that is sure to inspire.

The Road Less Traveled: Navigating Special Education

Session Description: This interactive session will focus primarily on building-level concepts associated with supporting students with disabilities including Local Education Agency (LEA) responsibilities as well as compliance monitoring and instructional practices.

Defining Teacher Leadership

Session Description: Are you a current or aspiring teacher leader? Do you select or train teacher leaders? Come learn about the knowledge and skills, roles and opportunities, and dispositions that a teacher leader should have. Assess professional development needs of teacher leaders and develop an action plan that will positively impact learning for students in your school or division.