ASPIRING LEADERS

June 12, 2024
Lakeside Middle School
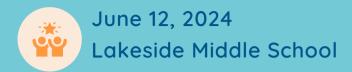

These sessions, presented by UVA, will equip aspiring leaders with the knowledge, skills, and dispositions to foster an inclusive, collaborative, and reflective school culture – driving continuous improvement and positive educational outcomes.

8:00 am – 9:30 am

Distributed Leadership
This session explores the concept of distributed leadership, a framework where leadership tasks are shared and viewed as a collective endeavor, emerging from interactions among leaders and individuals with their situations. Participants will learn the difference between delegation and how to effectively lead through a distributed model using structures, tools, routines, and practices to foster ownership.

10:00 am – 11:30 am

Leading with Authenticity & Creating an Empathetic Culture
Authenticity in leadership roles and the impact of an empathetic culture on school effectiveness is essential to meaningful relationships and a positive school climate. Learn how authentic leadership aligns with your core values and promotes trust and openness within the school environment to drive growth and improvement.

12:30 pm – 2:00 pm

Utilizing Data to Improve Decision Making
Engaging with various types of educational data and learning methodologies for data interpretation and application is critical to informing evidence-based practices and improving educational outcomes. Using data to drive and enhance decision-making will be highlighted in this session.

2:30 pm – 4:00 pm

Delivering Meaningful Feedback
Learn the art of providing constructive and authentic feedback that is actionable, timely, and encouraging. This session will cover techniques for framing feedback that support teacher growth and student achievement. Strategies for differentiating feedback to provide clarity and relevance will be shared and practiced.
